QUOTES 4 U

Shared by Les Creek

"Music is forever. Think about it ... music has outlasted every calamity the world has ever seen. Music survived multiple world wars, plagues, financial crashes, societal upheavals... you name it and music was there. Music is embedded in all of us as humans. During this crisis and after it's over, people will be playing, singing, and creating music."

- Larry Morton, CEO of Hal Leonard

CHORUS REHEARSAL PLANS AND UPDATE

From Paul Bullock

Did you try out the new song, “Stand By Me”, at your rehearsal this week?

Hopefully, everyone is able to continue singing. If you need assistance with this, the chorus will help you. As stated last week, the chapter will continue to provide information and resources to everyone so that we can keep singing. We want to do as much as possible to encourage everyone to sing.

1. Duncan will provide a weekly Wednesday night practice schedule in the Notes 4 U. We encourage everyone to dedicate Wednesday evening for singing. Do a vocal warm up and sing the songs on Duncan's list plus any others that you enjoy. Sherrie and Larry will continue to provide information to help with your practice and singing technique.
2. If you have questions about specific songs or need some assistance with learning, you can contact the person below for your section:

Section	Leader	Residence	Cell	Email
Tenor	Duncan Zaluski	204-999-7233		dztenor@gmail.com
Lead	Chris Magas	204-669-3330	204-941-1639	magasman@mymts.net
Baritone	Paul Bullock	204-475-4278		prof.p.bullock@gmail.com
Bass	Larry Bredesen	204-477-8023	204-230-5464	larrybredesen@gmail.com

They will help you with your questions and if they need further assistance they will contact Sherrie Bredesen and Larry Hunter.

3. If you have issues with any of the learning tracks, please contact Duncan.
4. If anyone in our chorus has an urgent need that they are unable to deal with in this situation, RCS is offering to try and help you. Contact Chris Magas (see above). He has generously offered to be a point of contact for any of the people in our chorus who may be looking for someone to help in some way. Contact Chris and he will try to coordinate some help for those in need.

We look forward to hearing everyone's music (and other) experiences during our video meeting on Wednesday.

Keep reaching out to each other. Be safe and stay healthy.

WORLD VOICE DAY IS APRIL 16TH. LET'S CELEBRATE ON WEDNESDAY APRIL 15TH.

From Paul Bullock

No doubt many of you received an email or alert from the Barbershop Harmony Society about World Voice Day (<http://world-voice-day.org/>) on April 16th. Of course, BHS is embracing this event (<https://www.barbershop.org/landing-pages/world-voice-day>). There are free online voice lessons and voice assessments on both April 16th and April 17th as well as vocal health tips.

I'll be honest. I never knew there was such a thing as "World Voice Day". But when I think about it, why not?! Our voices are so important and, even more so to all of us who are singers. Just read any of the "Getting to Know You" articles and it is absolutely clear that singing and our voices are very important to all of us and definitely something to get excited about.

WORLD VOICE DAY

April, 16th

On Wednesday, April 15th at 7:00 p.m., I will be hosting another chorus "zoom" meeting. The sole purpose will be to share ideas for singing and for celebrating our voices. Perhaps some members will sign up to participate in the BHS events for World Voice Day. If so, this will be a great time to let everyone know what you are planning. Of course, it will also be a time to ask questions or raise concerns. But most importantly, it will be a chance for us all to see each other and stay connected. Look for an email from Charlie Siegel a couple of days prior to April 15th with a link to join in the "zoom" meeting.

"It's gr-r-r-eat to be a barbershopper!"

GORDON AND PAULA BILLOWS

From Paul Bullock

As you are aware, Gordon and Paula Billows both contracted Covid-19. Gordon is still in isolation in the hospital but his symptoms are starting to subside and his appetite is improving. Paula is at home and is feeling much better. Thanks to everyone who has reached out to them. Please continue to do so. We send a collective prayer that their health continues to improve.

MESSAGE FROM JAY ALTHOF, LAND 'O LAKES EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT

From Paul Bullock

Jay has stepped in to cover for Gordon while he recovers. The primary role of Executive Vice President is to be the "back up" for the President. So given the medical situation with Gordon, Jay is assisting with issues/items that Gordon would normally handle as our President. Any outstanding issues/concerns for the district that were being addressed by Gordon can be forwarded to Jay. (Althof@aol.com)

Jay also reports that the district remains hopeful that choruses can resume a more normal schedule by this fall. To that end, the planning continues for the fall District Convention in Rochester. The hope is to find a way to have a safe and fun convention in October. Jay believes that if we are able to proceed that this event will be more important than ever for all of our members to reconnect, enjoy each others' friendship, sing and just have fun. He has asked all District Chapter Presidents to let members know that the district will continue to monitor the virus situation, but at this time the planning continues and a decision to proceed, or not, will come in late summer.

Jay hopes each chapter has found ways to stay connected. Several are using video conferencing technology to have virtual chapter meetings. For District level activities, Jay has started a monthly "audio" communication that will give a quick update on happenings across the District and any important news from the District or Headquarters. He recorded a brief (3 1/2 minute) audio update for our members which is posted on the District Website homepage (<http://www.loldistrict.org/>) . He plans to do something similar each month going forward - so feel free to send Jay topics you'd like him to address in the future.

Here is the final word in his message. "I hope all of you are able to stay healthy and strong. Now more than ever I think we recognize how important our barbershop hobby is to all of us and our members. As we've said so many times: 'We come for the singing, we stay for the people.'

STAYING CONNECTED WITH OUR FANS

From Brian Metcalfe

In the last two issues of "Notes 4 U" Paul Bullock & Herold Driedger reminded us just how important it is that we "reach out to our fans" to remind them that there would not be a Spring show this year. In addition, it was suggested that we inform our past patrons that they should save Sunday, Oct 18th for a proposed Cabaret performance with details to follow.

This important reminder got me "jump started". I have been maintaining a past patrons' email list since 2013. Recently, Les Creek sent me the names of all participants who had registered for our "Learn To Sing (Better)" programs. Those who did not join our chorus obviously have an interest in barbershop harmony and Les suggested they be added to my list. Once I updated this list, I sent the following Gmail message out to the 221 past patrons, using this unique email "barbershopharmony4u@gmail.com" which I use exclusively for past patrons. I encourage you to send out a similar email to your fans.

SUBJECT: River City Sound - No Annual Spring Show - Save the Date - Sun. Oct. 18, 2020

I trust that you and your loved ones are free of the Covid-19 virus and are staying at home.

Several of our past patrons have contacted me to see if our River City Sound chorus will be performing their regular annual Spring show in April or May. Based on the environment in which we, and the world, find ourselves, we will not be having a Spring show this year.

However, for those who love barbershop a cappella harmony, I ask you to mark Sunday, October 18th on you calendar. We have booked a venue for a Fall cabaret on this evening. At the moment, we have no other details (program, location, exact time, or ticket prices) other than the date.

Once this pandemic subsides and we get closer to our proposed Oct. 18th performance date, I'll send you another email with all the details about our cabaret.

Thank you for all your support over the years. Know that every chorus member wants you, your family, and friends to stay safe.

Take care, be safe & try to keep smiling :-)

Brian Metcalfe - River City Sound

PS Note: This email list is only used to notify you of upcoming River City Sound barbershop choral performances. If you would like to be removed from this list, just reply with "UNSUBSCRIBE" in the Subject field. Thank you.

COVID-19 DIARY - CARING AND SHARING

From Brian Metcalfe

Thanks to Wendy Lamont & Sherrie Bredesen for sharing their “diary entry” perspectives as to how they are coping with the COVID-19 isolation. Their efforts got me thinking that I, too, should write about the importance of good friends and connections as my diary entry.

It begins with the actions of a very good friend, who I have known since elementary school days. Back on March 12, my buddy gave Sally & me each a N95 mask from a limited supply that he had ordered. He strongly recommended that it be worn whenever we ventured outside our home. In that Sally was still recovering from a broken ankle, I was the only one “venturing out” to do grocery shopping. I admit, that I did not wear the mask, but left it in the back seat of our car. It appeared that very few, if any, were wearing masks at the grocery stores in mid-March, and those that did, were certainly given a very wide berth. Could such mask-wearers be infected themselves ... crossed my mind? Could my vanity also be holding me back from being safe?

We now fast-forward to April 7, when the chorus received an important email from Paul Bullock advising us that one of our colleagues, who recently returned from the U.S., tested positive for the virus and was in the Health Sciences Centre battling pneumonia and this insidious corona virus. Now as many of you know, this individual is well-respected throughout the barbershop family and our chorus in particular. Not only do I appreciate his efforts to help me sing better (and to remind me, from time to time, to sing in a higher octave :-), I appreciate his dramatic influence on me to take action to stay healthy.

True, as the primary caregiver, I had been shopping for groceries on a regular basis. I had always practiced the 6 foot social distancing rule, would line up to enter the grocery store as advised, and clean my hands with soap and water at the washing station before selecting a shopping cart that had been wiped down with disinfectant. I was careful to only proceed down aisles in the proper directions dictated by the arrows and to never pass other slower shoppers. I kept my distance from the cashier, bagged my own groceries, and proceeded home to wash thoroughly with hot water and soap. I thought I was being vigilant and careful and yet, until early April, I went shopping without gloves or a mask!

Who is this masked man?

Thanks to my life-long friend for supplying me with the mask and my barbershop friends for connecting and sharing important Covid-19 information through email and “Notes 4 U”. In this time of crisis, one cannot realize just how important a network of family and friends can be.

So learning of this virus misfortune of our barbershop colleague influenced me to take appropriate action and to put my vanity on the back burner. Now, I ALWAYS WEAR MY MASK!

Yesterday, while grocery shopping the cashier said, “I like your mask” and I replied ... “Yes ... when you learn of a good friend, who is in the Health Sciences Centre battling Covid-19, it dramatically changes your wardrobe and how you accessorize!”

Take care, be safe & try to keep smiling :-)

COVID-19 DIARY

From Krista Hanis-Gervais

Well it has been a few weeks now since we've been isolating, and I feel like it's my turn to share an update with all of you. I would be lying if I said that the pandemic has not changed my life. We all would! However, I do feel lucky that the lives of me and my hubby Matt have been affected far less than many in our community.

We are both grateful to still have our jobs at the University of Manitoba and to be receiving regular paychecks. We are both grateful to have a workplace and superiors that take our health and safety very seriously and have collaborated with us to prioritize research deliverables and determine how we can go about critical spring field work while minimizing transmission risk to staff, students and our external community. And as the situation progresses, we understand that we may be called to shut down all on-going field research for our protection.

I'm also grateful that Matt and I work very well alongside each other. Not many at River City Sound would know this, but not only do Matt and I work at the same place on the same projects, but we actually share an office at work as well. So, working from our home office, day after day, alongside each other is not something we've had to get used to. It's familiar and easy.

Now that I'm working from home, I'm beginning to write up a research paper for peer-reviewed publication, and I have spring field work to tend to. I am getting lots of fresh air and exercise (7.5 km of walking each visit) in our agricultural test plots at the U of M Glenlea Research Farm, collecting samples of greenhouse gas emissions from the soil as it thaws 2 to 3 times per week. I also help Matt to maintain weather and greenhouse gas instrumentation at Trace Gas Manitoba. We're counting down the days until seeding and wondering if this year we'll be able to conduct a full suite of research trials on our test plots, or if it will all be paused. Only time will tell, but we're planning for both scenarios.

Collecting gas samples from soil using a chamber.

At home, Matt and I have been challenged a bit, having to move to a new home. Our lease was up April 30th, and we could not stay because the house we were renting has been put up for sale by the owners who are moving out of province for work as soon as is safely possible. We decided the best course of action for us was to move a month early, thinking we would have more success in finding a moving company at these early stages of the pandemic's entry to Manitoba, rather than taking our chances at the end of the month when the situation could be much worse. We secured an apartment at the last week of March and on April 2nd, during the big snowstorm (what luck!), we had the movers come and transport all of our belongings to our new home. I am not a fan of living out of boxes, so while Matt was working on a time-sensitive project for work, I had the whole place unpacked and set up by the end of the weekend. We still have our office out of our former home and should be able to move that portion of things to the new home in the upcoming week.

In terms of hobbies, I've been keeping myself involved in quite a few. I have been doing a bit of barber-shop singing but need to focus more time to it now that we have some great new songs to learn. I've also signed up for 3 months of free digital lessons on "Fender Play" (<https://try.fender.com/play/playthrough/>). With the program, you can learn to play ukulele as well different styles of guitar specific to different genres. So I've tried it out, just to get the feel for how they teach, on the Ukulele Stream, since I already have a base knowledge, and now I think I am going to try out the Folk Stream for acoustic guitar. Matt has a steel-string acoustic guitar and a classical guitar, so I am going to try his steel-string acoustic, since his preference is for his classical guitar. I've also taken up Iyengar yoga again, now that I have the space in our new home to roll out that mat, and it's doing wonders to soothe sore tired muscles from work in the field. And, I've picked up a book series I left mid-way through a couple of years ago and am working towards finishing it. I dabble in a little of something every evening... whatever calls most to me that day.

I've also spent time focussing on my personal health. I've struggled with IBS symptoms for years now, and I have sought out the professional help of Dr Nick Paryniuk, Donna Paryniuk's son, who is a chiropractic doctor and nutrition specialist. He's been a great support to me, combining neural network analysis chiropractic care with a low FODMAP diet and prebiotic supplements to help get the brain and gut communicating effectively again, reduce inflammation and feed the good gut bacteria. Since the chiropractic office closed at the end of March, I haven't been able to continue with the chiropractic treatment, but we will continue to focus on the dietary aspect of things and slowly try to reintroduce foods that have been problematic and see how it goes. It has been a really positive thing to focus on healing. I am grateful for Dr Nick's expertise and support, and to Donna for hearing me out at coffee break at chorus and setting things in motion.

Finally, I just want to thank all of you that have provided inspiring, cheerful, informative and necessary information to me week after week for Notes 4 U. I am so grateful for our barbershop family at River City Sound as well as the greater barbershop community for how we've all pooled together in this time of need.

Please continue your efforts to share love and light with all those you interact with ... you never know who needs it most behind our brave public/online faces!

GETTING TO KNOW ... FERRYL CASSELMAN

My friend Pennie and I noticed the "Learn to Sing" ad in the newspaper last fall and decided to give it a try. As soon as we attended, we noticed a very welcoming and friendly bunch of people. I had never really sung in any capacity before and was encouraged to try. Larry Bredesen said that "it was not a spectator sport!" The others sounded so beautiful. My sister-in-law, who is a member of Sweet Adeline's in Denver, encouraged me to join as well.

Going out at night in the dead of winter is not usually my thing. Would I rather just sit on my comfy couch instead? But, when you start down the stairs at St. Andrews United Church and hear Becki or Sherrie on the piano and hear people singing, it just does something to you, and I am so glad that I made the trek out.

A bit about me ...

I worked at the American Consulate on Donald St. in quota control for 8 years. We would process visas for people who wished to immigrate to the United States. When John F. Kennedy was shot I'll never forget all the people who lined up to sign in a book of condolences. Those were the days when there was no maternity leave so when my son was born, I had to leave that great interesting job.

After that, I took a job with Ilford Riverton Airlines as a flight attendant on a DC3. I soon realized after a few engine failures and mechanical issues (while in the air) that I wanted a job on the ground! It was a really neat experience though, flying up north to see the beauty of our province.

My last 20 years of employment were spent with Inland Cement now Lehigh Heidelberg as an executive assistant.

My husband Bill of 50 years passed away in 2017. It was hard at first but now I am moving along and can credit all my good friends and family for that transition. I am so fortunate to have a son and daughter-in-law and very talented grandson (10) and granddaughter (14), both are dancers. Also my little best friend is Marley, a rescue dog.

My husband and I did a lot of travelling each winter to Mexico, Dominican Republic, Cuba, and my favourite place of all Hawaii.

One other thing is that I am addicted to gardening. My car automatically turns into all the garden centres. I have 14 rose bushes!!!

I volunteered for 8 years with the Humane Society on the committee to organize The Paws in Motion Walk.

I lived in Winnipeg all my life and grew up in St James with two terrific brothers. And as Krista and I have discovered, we both went to Silver Heights Collegiate but at different times. (She was much, much later)!

So for now, I hope that I can make a contribution to the River City Chorus so we can "Keep The Whole World Singing".

TO BRIGHTEN YOUR SPIRITS IN THESE TRYING TIMES

From Les Creek

A 16-Day Self-Isolation Diary

Day 1 – I Can Do This!! Got enough food and wine to last a month!

Day 2 – Opening my 8th bottle of Wine. I fear wine supplies might not last!

Day 3 – Strawberries: Some have 210 seeds, some have 235 seeds. Who Knew??

Day 4 – 11:00am. Finally removed my Night Pajamas and put on my Day Pajamas.

Day 5 – Today, I tried to make Hand Sanitizer. It came out as Jello Shots!!

Day 6 – I get to take the Garbage out. I'm So excited, I can't decide what to wear.

Day 7 – Laughing way too much at my own jokes!!

Day 8 – Went to a new restaurant called "The Kitchen." You have to gather all the ingredients and make your own meal. I have No clue how this place is still in business.

Day 9 – Put liquor bottles in every room. Tonight, I'm getting all dressed up and going Bar hopping.

Day 10 – Struck up a conversation with a Spider today. Seems nice. He's a Web Designer.

Day 11 – Isolation is hard. I swear my fridge just said, "What the hell do you want now?"

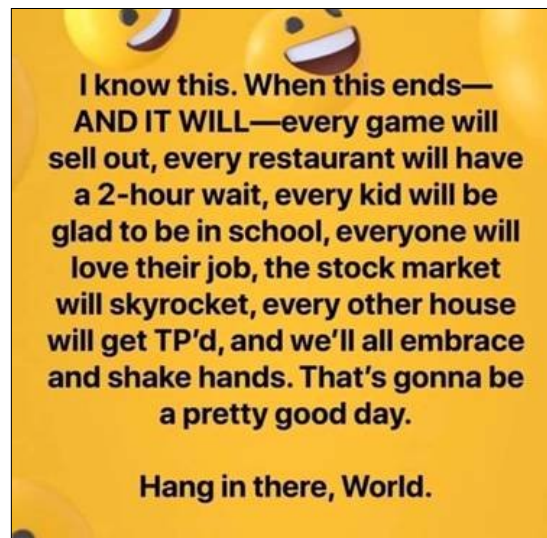

Day 12 – I realized why dogs get so excited about something moving outside, going for walks or car rides. I think I just barked at a squirrel.

Day 13 – If you keep a glass of wine in each hand, you can't accidentally touch your face.

Day 14 – Watched the birds fight over food. The Cardinals lead the Blue Jays 3–1.

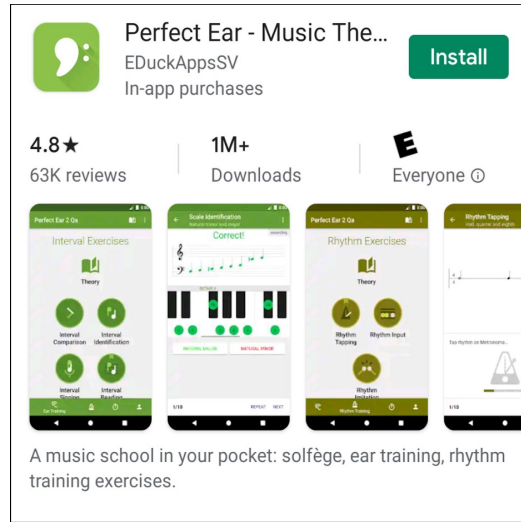

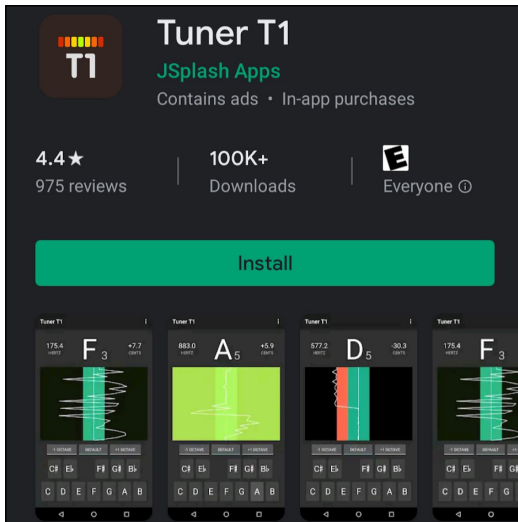

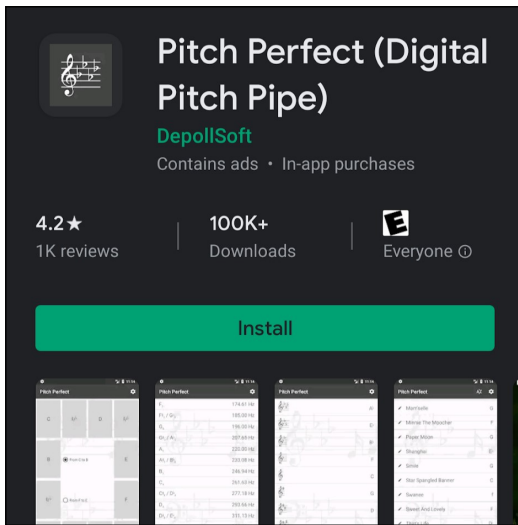

Day 15 – Anybody else feel like they've cooked dinner about 395 times this month?"

Day 16 - Learned coffee filters and dryer sheets twice as absorbent as toilet paper.
